

*Why do they call it Indian Trail Road?
How old are those spearpoints you found in your field?
How long have people lived along Massanutten and Smith Creek?*

Together, we can find out.

Native American Artifact Identification Day

Come share and learn.

Residents are encouraged to bring artifacts they have found in the area to be identified by local archaeologists.

VALLEY
CONSERVATION

Massanutten Chapter of the Archeological Society of Virginia has been involved with archaeology in the Valley since 1979. The chapter is composed of people from all backgrounds, including retired folks, archaeologists, students, and others. All have in common a love of archaeology and a desire to increase the knowledge about those who have come before us here in the Valley. Meetings are held the first Wednesday of the month at 7pm, Bridgewater Town Hall. The public is invited. Learn more at www.mcasv.org.

Valley Conservation Council (VCC) is a private, nonprofit, land trust supported by over 500 families across 11 counties. VCC promotes land use that sustains the farms, forests, open spaces and cultural heritage of the Shenandoah Valley region. Since 1990 VCC has helped hundreds of landowners consider their voluntary options for conserving what they love about their land.
